LETTER

The real estate remains a sure value! As we are an European, American, Russian or Asian investor, either countries of the gulf, the motivations of each can be very different.

The difficulties met by the banking bodies these last years sowed doubt in mind of the investors.

Although some banks make a profit, the decisions of certain managements of banks do not really give trust.

The dismissals of staff continue, personal data of customers are sometimes sold or still increase of the expenses of banks and taxes by certain states are so many reasons with push the investors towards other products types.

In this context, towards what product to invest?

The real estate remains a sure value in spite of the crisis.

The world population growth as well the increase of the personal freedoms through the countries of the planet, to travel, or invest overseas contribute to maintain a globally strong request of housing.

But everybody don't have the same goal. Which type of investment, and in which country, according to the sought objective.

Objective second residence, Objective exiled housing, objective investment with annual income and law taxes, objective transaction purchase and resale with profits, objective prestigious and luxury home, the request of the investors are numerous but the projects on the market answer these demand?

One day your home cost more than you pay it.

L'immobilier reste une valeur sure ! Selon que l'on soit un investisseur Européen, Américain, Russe ou asiatique, ou encore des pays du golfe, les motivations de chacun peuvent être très différentes.

Les difficultés rencontrées par les organismes bancaires ces dernières années ont semé le doute dans l'esprit des investisseurs.

Bien que certaines banques réalisent des bénéfices, les décisions de certaines directions de banques ne donnent pas vraiment confiance.

Les licenciements de personnel continuent, reventes de données personnelles de clients ou encore augmentation des frais de banques et des taxes par certains états sont autant d'éléments qui poussent les investisseurs vers d'autres types de produits.

Dans ce contexte, vers quel produit investir ? L'immobilier reste une valeur sure malgré la crise.

La croissance démographique mondiale ainsi que l'augmentation des libertés individuelles à travers les pays de la planète de voyager ou investir dans d'autres pays, contribuent à main-tenir une demande globalement forte du logement.

Investir pour quel objectif ?

Objectif Résidence secondaire, logement expatrié, investissement avec rente et faibles taxes, transaction achat et revente avec profits, prestige et luxe, les demandes des investisseurs sont nombreuses et variées, mais les projets sur le marché répondent à ces demandes ?

Un jour ou l'autre votre maison coûtera plus cher que ce que vous l'avez payé.
